

Taumata Arowai—the Water Services Regulator Bill

Government Bill

Explanatory note

General policy statement

This Bill implements the Government’s decision to create a new regulatory body to oversee, administer, and enforce the drinking water regulatory system. The Bill establishes Taumata Arowai—the Water Services Regulator (Taumata Arowai) as a new Crown agent and provides for its objectives, functions, operating principles, and governance arrangements.

The Bill is part of a broader package of reforms to the three waters regulatory system. It will be complemented by a separate Bill that will give effect to decisions to implement system-wide reforms to the regulation of drinking water and source water, and targeted reforms to improve the regulation and performance of wastewater and storm-water networks.

The approaches provided for in the Bill, and in the broader package of regulatory reforms, are intended to address issues and opportunities that were highlighted in the Government Inquiry into Havelock North Drinking Water and in the Government’s Three Waters Review. These reforms are designed to—

- provide clear leadership for drinking water regulation, through a new, dedicated, centralised regulator:
- significantly strengthen compliance, monitoring, and enforcement relating to drinking water regulation, and equip the new regulator with the powers and resources needed to build capability, support suppliers of all kinds to meet their regulatory obligations, and take a tougher, more consistent approach to enforcement where needed:
- manage risks to drinking water safety and ensure that source waters are protected:

- ensure that more people can access water that is safe to drink, by requiring all suppliers (except individual domestic self-suppliers) to be part of the regulatory system, and to provide safe drinking water on a consistent basis:
- improve the environmental performance and transparency of wastewater and stormwater networks:
- improve national-level leadership, oversight, and support relating to wastewater and stormwater.

These intentions are reflected throughout the Bill, including in Taumata Arowai's objectives, functions, and operating principles.

The objectives and operating principles are designed to guide and inform how Taumata Arowai carries out its functions and duties. Many of the operating principles have an outward focus, relating to engagement and relationship-building with consumers and regulated parties, including Māori. There is also a strong focus on building and maintaining expertise and capability, both within Taumata Arowai itself and across the water services sector. This approach will help to build confidence in the safety of drinking water and in the overarching regulatory system.

Taumata Arowai will be a Crown agent. This is intended to achieve the necessary step-change from the status quo, and provide an appropriate form for a regulator that will deal with highly technical matters and have a significant emphasis on compliance and enforcement. Being a Crown agent will help Taumata Arowai to build credibility, have a dedicated, sustained focus on drinking water, and recruit highly skilled people. Taumata Arowai will have sufficient independence to protect the integrity of its decision making.

As a Crown agent, Taumata Arowai will have a governance board. It will also need to act consistently with the principles of the Treaty of Waitangi. One of the duties of the board is to ensure that Taumata Arowai maintains the systems and processes that enable it to act consistently with these principles, and to engage with Māori and understand perspectives of Māori.

The Bill provides for the establishment of a Māori Advisory Group to advise Taumata Arowai on Māori interests and knowledge, as they relate to the objectives, functions, and operating principles of Taumata Arowai, and the duties of the board. The role of the Māori Advisory Group includes providing advice on how to interpret and give effect to Te Mana o te Wai, and how to enable mātauranga Māori, tikanga Māori, and kaitiakitanga to be exercised. The intent is to ensure that Māori interests and knowledge are embedded throughout Taumata Arowai.

Te Mana o te Wai is not defined in the Bill. It is intended that the Māori Advisory Group will develop and maintain a framework that provides advice and guidance for Taumata Arowai on how to interpret and give effect to Te Mana o te Wai. This approach provides flexibility, and enables interpretations to change over time and adapt to different circumstances.

Clause by clause analysis

Clause 1 is the Title clause.

Clause 2 is the commencement clause. The Bill, other than clauses 10(b) and 11(e), comes into force on the day on which it receives the Royal assent. Clauses 10(b) and 11(e) come into force on the earlier of a date set by Order in Council, and 1 July 2021. These 2 clauses have a delayed commencement because Taumata Arowai will not take over as the actual regulator of the drinking water regulatory system until the repeal of Part 2A of the Health Act 1956 by a separate, planned, future Bill. These 2 clauses will come into force at the same time as Part 2A is repealed.

Part 1

Preliminary provisions

Clause 3 states the purpose of the Bill as being to establish Taumata Arowai—the Water Services Regulator and provide for its objectives, functions, and governance arrangements.

Clause 4 defines certain terms used in the Bill.

Clause 5 sets out how the Bill recognises and respects the Crown's responsibility to consider and provide for Māori interests.

Clause 6 provides that the transitional, savings, and related provisions set out in Schedule 1 have effect according to their terms.

Clause 7 provides that the Bill binds the Crown.

Part 2

Establishment, objectives, functions, and operation of Taumata Arowai—the Water Services Regulator

Subpart 1—Establishment, objectives, and functions of Taumata Arowai

Clause 8 establishes Taumata Arowai—the Water Services Regulator (Taumata Arowai).

Clause 9 provides that Taumata Arowai is a Crown entity for the purposes of section 7 of the Crown Entities Act 2004. That Act applies to Taumata Arowai unless otherwise expressly provided in the Bill.

Clause 10 sets out the statutory objectives of Taumata Arowai.

Clause 11 sets out the general functions of Taumata Arowai.

Subpart 2—Board of Taumata Arowai, and Māori Advisory Group

Board

Clause 12 provides that the board of Taumata Arowai is to consist of not fewer than 5, and not more than 7, members. In appointing members, the responsible Minister must ensure that the members collectively have knowledge and experience of, and capability in specified matters.

Clause 13 enables the board to delegate any of its functions or powers in accordance with section 73 of the Crown Entities Act 2004, except the power to appoint or remove the chief executive.

Māori Advisory Group

Clause 14 establishes the Māori Advisory Group, which is to consist of not fewer than 5, and not more than 7, members.

Clause 15 sets out the process for appointing members of the Māori Advisory Group. Appointments are to be made by the responsible Minister.

Clause 16 applies certain provisions of the Crown Entities Act 2004 to members of the Māori Advisory Group, including provisions relating to their term of office and removal from office, and provides for the remuneration of members.

Clause 17 sets out the role of the Māori Advisory Group. The group's role is to advise the board and Taumata Arowai on Māori interests and knowledge, as they relate to the objectives, functions, and operating principles of Taumata Arowai and the collective duties of the board. This role includes developing and maintaining a framework that provides advice and guidance for Taumata Arowai on how to interpret and give effect to Te Mana o te Wai.

The Bill does not define Te Mana o te Wai. It is expected that the Māori Advisory Group will advise the board and Taumata Arowai on how to interpret and give effect to Te Mana o te Wai.

Subpart 3—Operations of Taumata Arowai

Clause 18 states operating principles to guide and inform Taumata Arowai in its performance and delivery of its objectives, functions, and duties. An associated provision in clause 19 requires the board to ensure that Taumata Arowai acts in a manner consistent with the operating principles.

Clause 19 states additional duties that are collective duties of the board.

Part 3

Miscellaneous provisions

Clause 20 amends the Ombudsmen Act 1975 and the Crown Entities Act 2004 as indicated in Schedule 2. The effect of these amendments is to make Taumata Arowai an organisation for the purposes of the Official Information Act 1982 and a Crown agent (for example, like Kāinga Ora—Homes and Communities) for the purposes of the Crown Entities Act 2004.
